

Ben Jones: - Benyo and Crawford created the "July-August window" and the concept of the 6AM-start. Over the years the AM-start seemed to be interpreted as starting after 0001 and before ...

The route follows the typical 146-mile route along the roads from the lowest point (Badwater) to wherever the Portal Road is closed for the winter (the portal closure gate), then along the road ...

The "personal challenge" was originally created from several issues and cases we had a person that did segments of Badwater in different years, then came to us saying the "did Badwater ...

Just as no one had ever attempted a solo-self-contained crossing, a Badwater Quad, or a self-supported circumnavigation of Death Valley National Park before I created these, and other, challenges.

1999 Badwater Solo, self-contained. Photo courtesy of Ben Jones. Thirty years ago, at age 39, endurance athlete Marshall Ulrich completed his ...

Trekking poles are allowed Can you have pacers if you do the "supported" version? ==>>>
In the past most crossings were documented by the "pacers" you had on the mountain.
Badwater135 ...

The solo, self-contained Badwater 146 goes from the Badwater Basin (at -282 ft., the lowest point in the Western Hemisphere) to the peak of Mt. Whitney (at 14,505 ft., the highest ...

Thanks to all who have offered support and encouragement in advance of my solo, self-contained crossing attempt. Things are coming together and I am on...

- The summer of 2015 was an exception - if you look below you will see we accepted "Night Starts" because we did not want to change these guidelines in the middle of the season ...

is not an event, not a race, it is a community oriented tradition, a pilgrimage path. Badwater146 is incorporated as BW146 LLC to protect the Admins and everything.: I think the ...

In 2012 he broke the 13-year-old world record for the Badwater Solo Self-Contained Ultramarathon of ultra running legend Marshall Ulrich. He ran 146 miles solo unassisted run through Death Valley in August at 117 degrees, ...

Start at Badwater ("lowest") going westward in sequence to Whitney Summit "highest" ( cannot do random sections back & forth) The "original" intent was to go on the road from Badwater to the ...

Determination, heart and a record-breaking time motivated Croix Sather to the finish line of the Badwater Solo Self-Contained (SCC) Ultramarathon on Sunday morning.

The "guidelines" say one has to finish in July or August ... basically by the end of August The "original intent" from Al Arnold, i do not think it was ... you gotta finish by Aug 31st at 23:59pm ...

Q::Also, what is the cut off time for this? Is there one? by Telma Altoon - In time we changed and designed the rules to be both flexible and rigid, therefor there is no specific time cutoff. So one ...

The 41-year-old Sather will be in Death Valley, California where he'll be attempting the Badwater Solo Self-Contained Crossing (SCC) Ultramarathon. This isn't just your everyday ultramarathon.

Honor System ( no one will "officially" monitor your crossing or enforce guidelines. It's your responsibility to persuade us, that you did what you claim you did. For example what would ...

The Badwater Ultramarathon describes itself as the world's toughest foot race. It is a 135mile (217km) course starting at 279 feet (85m) below sea level in the Badwater Basin, in California's Death Valley, and ending at an ...

Course Early history Current Race Race winners Related events Multiple crossings Unassisted solo crossings Unassisted "self-contained" solo crossings Badwater Solo Ultra 135/146 Death ...

Announce your crossing in advance but not too far in advance. Acknowledge you understand all the guidelines. Submit your athletic credentials. - So far nobody gave us a real scenario of a ...

Web: <https://bardzyndzalek.olsztyn.pl>

