How many Marriott Hotels have EV chargers in North America?

With this being said, it doesn't mean that 6,000 Marriott hotels in North America will actually get an EV Connect-installed charger, but rather that the aforementioned locations will have access to the provider's set of products and services so that they can easily deploy, manage, and serve guests who drive EVs.

Does Marriott have an EV charging partnership with Tesla?

While this is the first agreement of its kind for Marriott, it is not the first EV charging alliance in the hospitality industry. In early September, Hilton Hotels announced a deal with Tesla to deploy over 20,000 Universal Wall Connectors across 20,000 locations - building upon a relationship that dates back to 2017.

How does Marriott EV connect shield work?

Marriott properties will be able to select charging hardware deployed on the open platform, thereby enabling them to scale the EV charging requirements that meet the requirements of each location. Additionally, EV Connect Shield offers a warranty plan that provides Marriott property owners with maintenance services.
