

Why do Reddit users not want to buy solar panels?

Perhaps the top reason Reddit users don't want to buy solar panels is because of bad experiences with solar scams and pushy salespeople. u/Lovesolarthings said: The bad apples (with lies, poor service, high prices, poor equipment, etc) that poison the good experiences that a good consultant with a good company can create.

Are solar panels a good investment?

The "right answer" to this question depends on each homeowner's unique scenario, but there are some overarching principles to follow. Here are some examples: This Reddit user from Kentucky asked for people's thoughts and experiences with solar panels because they had heard going solar could save you money.

Are solar panels worth it?

Here are some examples: This Reddit user from Kentucky asked for people's thoughts and experiences with solar panels because they had heard going solar could save you money. What they heard isn't wrong - solar panels can save you money on your electricity bills. Exactly how much and if it's worth it is another story.

Why do people not buy solar panels?

For every scam and pushy sales person there is an honest, experienced local installer ready to help you meet your energy goals. Another reason people don't buy solar panels is because they're stuck on a misconception about the solar industry, like that solar is expensive or short-lived. u/Jm11890 said: I've worked in the industry for 7 years now.

Should you buy residential solar panels?

With energy prices soaring, residential solar is becoming a meaningful cost-savings measure for more and more households. Still, there are plenty of people that don't want to buy solar panels for one reason or another.

Do solar panels cost anything?

The poster says, "the panels don't cost anything," implying the company is pitching a solar lease or a PPA. Both are "third-party ownership" deals where the solar company owns the panels and sells you the energy you produce. They also say it's a lease later on in the post.

There is great confusion and misunderstanding about how utility companies use the electricity provided by solar panels, especially as the technology continues to develop. The ...

Ben Zientara is a writer, researcher, and solar policy analyst who has written about the residential solar industry, the electric grid, and state utility policy since 2013. His early work included leading the team that produced the annual State ...

Perhaps the top reason Reddit users don't want to buy solar panels is because of bad experiences with solar scams and pushy salespeople. u/Lovesolarthings said: The bad apples (with lies, poor service, high prices, ...

One Reddit user shared their energy bill before and after installing solar panels and a home battery, and the difference will blow your mind. Reddit user Mdizzle29 is based in California, somewhere that is certainly not low on ...

For most, satellite connectivity means ensuring that people everywhere have access to telecommunications, data and the internet. Connecting this way is a noble goal, and ...

One of the main reasons people install solar panels is because one of their neighbors has already done it -- and now an innovative company is giving more customers ...

So, we decided to collect some of the most common questions Reddit users are asking about solar panels for their homes so you can find answers you trust all in one place. Most of these questions can be broken down into 5 major ...

Idaho Power has asked the Idaho Public Utilities Commission to drastically slash the rates it pays rooftop solar customers for excess energy.

Web: <https://bardzyndzalek.olsztyn.pl>

